Forensic accounting & Litigation support

How can we help you?

In the event of a legal dispute, expert accounting assistance is often needed to achieve the best possible result for the client.

As experienced forensic accountants we are particularly familiar with the relevant legal framework and procedures in order to perform these services to the highest professional standard.

We are usually instructed to analyse, interpret, summarise and present complex financial and business related issues in a manner which is both readily understandable and properly supported, in both civil and criminal litigation disputes.

Expert Shadow Adviser:

We are able to offer initial advice to clients with regards to cases and also relating to the initial technical evaluation of an Expert Opinion, providing questions to be asked of a Single Joint Expert and advising on points to be put in cross-examination of an expert witness.
